Your Financial Responsibility for Emergency Department Care

A medical emergency is an injury or illness that is acute and serious enough to risk a person's life or long term health. Depending on the illness or injury, treatment may require multiple levels of healthcare specialties from the first responders (i.e. paramedics or emergency medical techs EMTs) to emergency department physicians and specialized surgeons and/or hospitalization. This level of medical care can be very costly.

Here are some things to consider before and after your visit to an emergency department (ED).

If your medical situation is life threatening, call 911. If you are directed to a hospital emergency department, do not delay going there, regardless of whether you have medical insurance coverage. You can sort out any financial issues after your recovery.

If you have insurance, make sure to bring your card or information given to you by a family member:

- If your medical situation is not immediately life threatening call the member services number on the back of your insurance card and ask consultant where you can go for medical attention (i.e. urgent care centers, ED, or your primary care provider).
- Make sure to notify your insurance company about your ED visit and follow-up with the hospital billing department as soon as you've recovered so that they can bill your insurance company directly.

Note: Any portion of the bill not covered by your insurance policy is your responsibility.

If you DO NOT have insurance, there are other options available to you that can help pay your ED expenses.

- San Diego County offers several medical assistance programs that may help you pay for ED expenses. You may qualify for one of the following programs: County Medical Services (CMS), Low Income Health Program (LIHP) or Medi-Cal.
- Call the San Diego County Patient Service line at (800) 587-8118 and schedule an eligibility appointment as soon as possible. An eligibility worker will screen you for all three programs and determine if you are eligible for one of them. Some programs offer up to 30 days of retroactive coverage so when you call make sure you let the eligibility worker know you had a visit to the ED. Do not wait until you receive bills from the hospital; the 30 day retroactive coverage begins on the date that you were treated at the ED not when you receive the bills.
- If you are not eligible for county assistance or have been denied assistance, you may be able to work directly with the hospital where you received ED services to reduce your bill or arrange a monthly payment plan. Many hospitals offer charity programs for patients that do not meet assistance program's eligibility guidelines. It is important that you communicate your financial needs with the hospital billing staff so that they can arrange to accommodate your individual needs.

If you have other questions, you may contact our Health Promotion Department for assistance at (619)-594-4133.
